

We build a pixel mask combining an HSV blue-hue band with an RGB blue-dominance rule, then use connected-component analysis to get candidate boxes, filtered by width/height/area to reject noise. Boxes on the same line that are close horizontally are merged, since a single link can span multiple word-fragments.